

THE NOVEMBER ELECTIONS.

TICKETS IN THIRTY-FIVE STATES.

CONGRESSMEN TO BE CHOSEN IN ALL OF THESE.
GOVERNORS IN SEVENTEEN AND MINOR STATE
OFFICERS IN SEVEN—CONSTITUTIONAL AMEND-
MENTS TO BE CONSIDERED IN TWELVE STATES—
NINETEEN UNITED STATES SENATORS TO BE ELECTED BY LEGISLATURES CHOSEN TO-DAY.

All of the States except Maine, Vermont and Oregon hold elections to-day. Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia and Rhode Island having already chosen Governors and some other officers this year, and Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi and Virginia vote only for Congressmen. Florida and West Virginia elect Congressmen and also members of their State Legislatures. The other twenty-four states elect executive officers of more or less importance, as well as Congressmen and Legislatures, the following seventeen choosing Governors: California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Kansas, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New-Hampshire, New-Jersey, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Wisconsin. This year Ohio holds a State election in November for the first time.

Questions relating to constitutional amendment will be voted upon in twelve States. California considers one amendment relating to the assessment of taxes. In Colorado and Kansas the voters have a chance to reorganize their judicial systems. Florida has an entirely new constitution to adopt or reject. In Illinois the abolition of the State contract system in prisons is to be dealt with. Two matters come up in Michigan: the system of settling county claims, and salaries of State executive and judicial officers. Minnesota will pass upon a proposition designed to facilitate the building of schools. In Nebraska the pay of members of the Legislature and bimetallic sessions are to be voted upon.

Nevada has three amendments under consideration. They affect the mode of amending the Constitution in the future, regulate the qualifications of voters, and direct how school funds may be invested. New-York votes upon a proposition to have another Constitutional convention. In South Carolina two amendments are submitted, one relating to renewing State bonds and the other to the State census. Wisconsin passes upon the woman suffrage question.

The terms of twenty-four Senators will expire on March 4, 1887. Those from Maryland, Ohio, Mississippi, Rhode Island, and Vermont have been re-elected. A successor to the one from Virginia has already been chosen. The new one from Maine will be designated by the Legislature elected last September. Death has caused a vacancy from New-Hampshire. Nineteen legislatures, therefore, to be elected in part or wholly to-day, will be called upon to choose Senators. The following table shows the present status of these Senators:

	SENATE.	SENATE.	SENATE.
California.	Present Senator.	Senator Elect.
Connecticut.	Abram P. Williams, R.	Old Leg. Rep.
Delaware.	Joseph H. Ray, D.	Old Leg. Rep.

Vermont.	George P. Edmunds, R.	Good F. Edwards,
West Virginia.	Johnson N. Cannon, D.	Old Leg. Dem.
Wisconsin.	Philetus Sawyer, R.	Old Leg. Rep.

Elected to succeed John F. Heard appointed in place of John F. Miller, deceased.

Appointed to succeed John F. Heard, appointed in place of John F. Miller, deceased.

Died two weeks ago; had two more years to serve.

Appointed to succeed Howell E. Jackson, elevated to Circuit Judge.

In the Senate there are now 39 Republicans (including the one whose Governor carrier of New-Hampshire will probably appoint to fill Mr. Pike's place temporarily), 35 Democrats and 2 Readjusters. The only change made in the political complexion of this body by recent elections of Senators is the substitution of a Bourbon Democrat for one of the Virginia Readjusters who has always voted with the Republicans. If no changes occur in the political affiliations of the nineteen Senators to be chosen in other States the new Senate will stand: Republicans, 40; Democrats, 35; Readjusters, 1.

The House of Representatives in the XLIXth Congress, when elected, contained 140 Republicans, 183 Democrats, 2 Greenback-Labor members. An election to fill a vacancy in Louisiana replaced a Republican (Hahn) with a Democrat (Wallace). Resignation has caused another vacancy in the XIXth New-York District, and death a third one in the XVth New-York and a fourth in the IIIrd. Fourteen of the members already seated in the 11th Congress from Maine and Vermont and Oregon are of the same political cast as their predecessors.
